Spain Enters the War

Historically Spain did little but a few skirmishes and provide money. Spain will continue to give money to the United States as long as there is a United States to give money too and a Spain that can give it. Once Spain enters the War they have 4 production points to spend in Florida on Infantry. If Florida is taken so is Spain ability to be active in the war, Spain will still provide the 5 production points every turn. Spain gets into the war the same turn as France. Spain does still give its 5 production points even as they produce 4 in Florida.

When Spain enters the war they will have 4 production to spend, obviously they can't purchase anything yet as every thing costs more money. They save there money every turn and any money they don't spend is saved for the next turn.
